Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—At a Cabinet meeting to-day every department of the government was represented. The views of the Cabinet acting upon the information officially given to the general government were that prompt action was necessary for the purpose of dispersing the rifle clubs and other armed bodies organized as alleged against the peace of the State and the rights of voters, and to this end the Attorney General began the immediate preparation of the following proclamation, which was issued to-night by the President:

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, It has been satisfactorily shown to me that insurrection and domestic violence exist in several counties of the State of South Carolina, and that certain combinations of men against the law exist in many counties of the State known as rifle clubs, who ride up and down by day and night in arms, murdering peaceable citizens and intimidating others, which combinations, though forbidden by law of the State, cannot be controlled or suppressed by ordinary course of justice; and

Whereas, It is provided in the constitution of the United States that the United States shall protect every State upon application of the Legislature or of the executive when the Legislature cannot be convened against domestic violence; and

Whereas, By the laws in pursuance of the above it is provided in the laws of the United States that in all cases of insurrection in any State or of obstruction to laws thereof it shall be lawful for the President of the United States on application of the Legislature of such State or of the executive when the Legislature cannot be convened, to call for the militia of any State or States or employ such part of the land or naval forces as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such insurrection or causing the laws to be duly executed; and

Whereas, The legislature of said State is not now in session and cannot be convened in time to meet the present emergency, and the executive of said State under section 4, article 4 of the constitution and of laws passed in pursuance thereof has therefore made due application to me in the premises for such part of the military force of the United States as may be necessary and adequate for the protection of such State and citizens thereof against domestic violence and to enforce the due execution of the laws; and

Whereas, It is required that whenever it may be necessary in the judgment of the President to use a military force for the purpose aforesaid he shall forthwith by proclamation command such insurgents to disperse and return peaceably to their respective homes within a limited time,

Now, therefore, I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby make this proclamation and command all persons engaged in said unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within three days from this date, and hereafter abandon said combinations and submit themselves to the laws and constituted authorities of said State, and I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens thereof to uphold the laws and preserve the public peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this seventeenth day of October 1876. U. S. GRANT

By the President:
JOHN L. CADWALLADER, Acting Sec'y of State

Troops for South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The following was issued this evening in pursuance of the action taken at the cabinet meeting for the protection of the public peace, etc:

Gen. Wm. T. Sherman—Sir: In view of the existing condition of affairs in South Carolina there is a possibility that the proclamation of the President of this date may be disregarded. To provide [illegible] such a contingency you will immediately order all the available force in the military division of the Atlantic to report to Gen Ruger commanding at Columbia, S. C., and instruct that officer to station his troops in such localities that they may be most speedily and effectually used in case of resistance to the authority of the United States. It is hoped that a collision may thus be avoided; but you will instruct Gen Ruger to let it be known that it is the fixed purpose of the government to carry out the spirit of the proclamation and to sustain it by the military force of the general government, supplemented if necessary by the military of the various States. Very respectfully,

D. G. CAMERON, Secretary of War.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The Tribune's Washington special says: It is ascertained there was an entire unanimity on the subject of pressing the proclamation relative to South Carolina affairs in the Cabinet to-day, it being clearly shown the lives of Republicans in South Carolina are unsafe, that the Governor was powerless and the ballot box would be corrupted. Judge Taft declares Chamberlain's application constitutional. South Carolina Republicans are much elated at this decision and predict with great confidence that Hayes and Wheeler will carry both North and South Carolina.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The Times' Washington special says: There was an informal meeting of the leading Democrats at the Ebbitt House this evening to discuss what policy shall be best to adopt to meet this revolutionary move of Grant upon South Carolina. Judge Jere Black was the principal spokesman. The plan was broached and approved which will be perfected to-morrow, to telegraph to Wade Hampton and his followers to peremptorily withdraw from the canvass and leave the Republican ticket without any opposition; then the Democratic House will not allow the vote of South Carolina to be counted next February upon the ground of its illegality. Army officers here familiar with Hancock's force say at the expiration of the three days mentioned in the proclamation General Ruger will have ten thousand men at his disposal. If this is not enough more will be furnished if volunteers are required.

Affairs in South Carolina—Another Version.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Private dispatches from South Carolina bring a very different version of the cause of the collision between the whites and blacks at Cambrey from the associated press reports of last night. It seems that a crowd of white Democrats went up from Charleston to create a disturbance by demanding half time at the meeting. The negroes feeling themselves numerically able to hold their own and protect their rights refused to have their meeting interfered with. The whites then offered violence, but the negroes not only stood their ground but attacked the rioters and drove them off. South Carolinians here say this result shows that the Wade Hampton rifle clubs cannot undertake to successfully execute their programme in that portion of the State. Wherever the negroes have a large majority, numbers give them confidence and they are not cowed as in the up-hill counties where the intimidation is so great.

Excitement Over the Cambrey Murders.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 18.—Excitement has prevailed here all day regarding the Cambrey affair. The bodies of the three white men who were killed outright and left upon the ground were recovered to-day. They had been stripped of their clothing, also hacked and mutilated in a shocking manner. One of the wounded whites died this morning and it is feared several others will die. One dead negro was found at the scene of the attack. He is supposed to have been killed by the first volley fired from the black militia from the bushes. It is not thought that any other negroes were either killed or wounded. An armed force of whites is guarding white families in the village and the blacks have disappeared from the neighborhood.

Meeting of the Army of the Tennessee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The tenth annual meeting of the Society of the Army of Tennessee was held this morning at Lincoln Hall. About 125 members were present together with a large number of spectators. Gen Sherman, president of the society, calling the meeting to order, said that to-day was set apart more especially for uniting in the dedication of and for the unfurling of a banner from McPherson's monument, but previous to this there would be several hours for the transaction of business pertaining to the society. The meeting was formally opened by prayer by Rev. Mason Noble of the United States Navy, and a committee was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year, to designate the time and place for the next meeting and [illegible] select an orator for the occasion. A note was read from the private secretary of President Grant saying it would give the latter great pleasure to meet again and take by the hand such of his associates of the army of the Tennessee as may be pleased to call upon him at [illegible] o'clock Thursday night. The invitation was accepted as was also an invitation to visit Mount Vernon to-morrow. Letters of regret were read from Gov. Hartranft and [illegible] Gen Dix, Wright, Norton, Crook, Augur, [illegible] and Townsend and Commissioner Ammen and others. Gen Sherman said he had received a telegram from Lieut Gen Sheridan regretting [illegible] give his best love and respect [illegible] Sheridan was unavoidably kept at Chicago by public duties but his heart was present with them [illegible]. A letter was read from Gov. Hayes of Ohio regretting that important public duties prevented [illegible] the [illegible] commander [illegible] J. B. H[illegible] of the Confederate army against the army of the Ten[illegible] [illegible] who was a classmate of [illegible] expressed [illegible] regret that he was unable to accept the invitation to attend this meeting.

Military Changes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Brig Gen Jacob Zeilin, commander of the marine corps, has been placed on the retired list at [illegible] McCawley [illegible] with the rank [illegible] commandant of the corps with the rank of Brigadier General. The change is to take effect November 1st.

A CARD

FREEPORT, Oct 18 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I find in the OREGONIAN of the 13th inst an account of a Democratic convention held in Kalama, in the proceedings of which my name is announced as nominee for county auditor. I take this opportunity to state that no one ever had any authority to announce my name as a candidate for any office, and I shall decline all nominations.

AMBROSE PATTON

THE EASTERN WAR.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a special from Berlin which says the great powers have now reverted to [illegible] proposal [illegible] armistice for six weeks [illegible] conditions in order to devise [illegible] that part [illegible] basis for a treaty of peace. There is no truth in the report of German mobilization.

Col D[illegible] is mentioned in a Berlin dispatch to the Times as being on a mission to Austria on behalf of Russia as the Czar's adjutant.

A dispatch from Vienna says: It is believed in well informed circles here that an alliance between Austria and Russia is on the point of being concluded, according to which Russia, if Turkey refuses an armistice, would enter upon military intervention while Austria would remain neutral. Russia would not permanently occupy Turkish provinces, but should events lead to the overthrow of the Ottoman government, Russia would yield to Austria such extension of territory as she might claim on grounds of commercial or general interest.

The Times in a leading article points out that peace or war depends upon the prompt reply by the Porte to Russia's demand for a six weeks armistice. The Times repeats its arguments in favor of the powers urging Turkey to accept Russia's demand.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A telegram from Vienna states that the Austrian government has not approved of the Porte's proposal for a long armistice. On the contrary it is understood that Count Andrassy will support the steps taken by Russia in favor of shorter armistice and will second Russia's action in harmony with the triple alliance.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—A telegram states Russia's telegraphic dispatch refusing the Porte's proposal is dated Oct. 14th and is as follows: We regard a six months armistice as unnecessary and unfavorable to the condition of the durable peace which we desire. We are not in a position to exercise such influence upon Servia and Montenegro as to presume to obtain their consent to such a prolongation in their uncertain and difficult position. We consider that the financial and commercial condition of Europe, which is already unbearable, would suffer still more by such postponement. We must insist on an armistice of four or six weeks with a provision that it be further prolonged should the progress of negotiations render it necessary.

A correspondent at St. Petersburg telegraphs that Russia, reverting to England's original proposal, demands that guarantees should be afforded for execution of reforms in Turkey by means of an international act. The Porte previously refused this. It is now stated Servia is resolved to reject any armistice.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Standard's special from Vienna announces that a Russian courier arrived with a letter from the Czar to the Emperor of Austria.

A letter from Odessa reports 5 000 men arrived from the interior of Russia to work on the fortifications of that city and other places near the sea shore.

VIENNA, Oct. 18.—A correspondent of the Times telegraphs: I have just been informed that England, France and Italy have declared their acceptance of a five months armistice and have appointed delegates to take part in drawing up the line of demarcation. Austria has not yet made her declaration.

A leading editorial in the Times reviewing the situation concludes as follows: England's interest is less immediate than that of Germany, Austria and France, and we may await with equanimity even the outbreak of war, but there may be a point at which regard for the well being and reputation of the British empire would necessitate a resolute attitude.

The Times' Belgrade dispatch says Germany's attitude is not understood by diplomatists. Bismarck is supposed to be biding his time with a view of assisting if opportunity offers in the disruption of the Austrian empire.

VIENNA, Oct. 18.—A correspondent of the Times says now that there is no longer any misunderstanding regarding the real meaning of the English indignation meetings over atrocities in Bulgaria, it is remembered that even single handed England's opposition may be more effectual than any other power. Apart from her superiority at sea her land forces are in a very different condition from what they were at the outbreak of the last Eastern war.

LONDON, Oct. 18, 12:20 P. M.—At this hour the stock exchange is greatly excited and it is almost impossible to give accurate quotations. Russian securities have declined, making a fall of nearly 20 per cent within a week. War between Russia and Turkey is considered as already begun and it is generally believed that other powers will become involved. A commercial and financial crisis in Russia and consequent heavy fall in Russian exchange adds to the confusion.

1 P. M.—The funded loan, only American stock much dealt in, feels the influence of the prevailing depression and is now quoted at 105¾@106.

PESTH, Oct. 18.—Intelligence from Vienna states that England considers all diplomatic action at Constantinople at an end. This statement has produced a very gloomy feeling here, and war is considered unavoidable.

Advices from Bucharest state an agreement has been concluded between Roumania and Russia for placing Roumanian troops under Russian officers in case of war.

A correspondent telegraphs an interview with Ristics, the Servian prime minister, in which the latter stated a resumption of hostilities in which Russia will participate is certain.

Correspondents at different points telegraph as follows: All Russians in Paris under the age of 40 have been ordered home.

Russia has issued a circular note announcing that in the interest of humanity she feels bound to march the troops into Bulgaria and Armenia. There are 82 000 men at Camp Bendo and 64 000 around Tiflis. Austria's Eastern policy will conform to that of Russia and Germany.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The new Russian ironclad Peter the Great is to leave Cronstadt immediately for the Mediterranean.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The report is contradicted this morning that an agreement has been entered into between Russia and Roumania that the latter should furnish a contingent in case of war. Germany proposes to submit to the next parliament the propriety of largely increasing her silver coinage on the ground that the present amount in circulation is insufficient.

Panic on the Stock Exchange.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Globe says a complete panic prevails on the stock exchange. The news of Russia's apparent determination to make war on Turkey has confirmed the fears which for several days have depressed the market and culminated to-day in an indiscriminate pressure for sale of all descriptions of stock, not only by speculators stimulating panic fears but by bona fide holders of securities, and the pressure forcing others. There was at the opening a further serious decline in quotations and it was difficult to obtain prices at which bargains could be effected, the fluctuation being so great and frequent. The changes included a reduction of 5 in Hungarian, 1¼ in Turkish, 2 in Egyptian, 3 in Italian, and less but considerable decline in all stocks.

Bad Condition of Affairs in Spain

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A special to the Times from Barcelona states that the liberal organ La Tribuna has been sentenced to six months suspension and thus finally ruined for publishing an article written by Senor Castellar. Throughout Spain the liberals are now oppressed by the Government, which daily becomes narrower in tone and less moderate in sympathies. The arrogance of the priesthood increases daily.

Trouble among Cotton Spinners

MANCHESTER, Oct. 1[illegible].—At a meeting of the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association of north east and northwestern Lancashire yesterday it was resolved that the operative cotton spinners having given notice that they will be bound no longer by the arrangement by which their wages have hitherto been regulated—an act which will give that body control of the position of wages in the district—therefore the mill owners refused to continue work under the proposed conditions and decided to give a month's notice that they will close their mills on November 30. Resolutions were also adopted declaring that masters are ready to discuss the present standard with operatives or arrange for the removal of irregularities, but refuse any adjustment which would practically advance wages. The lock out, if it should take place, will throw 80 000 operatives out of employment.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

ANOTHER LOCK BILL AND WHY—COMPULSORY EDUCATION—ANOTHER LIQUOR BILL—LAWS ENACTED—THE GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

SALEM, Oct. 18, 1876.

But little of general importance has been accomplished in either branch of the assembly this week, though the attempts that have been made to do something have been frequent and earnest. The lower house carried S B 9 through with a rush last week under the pressure of the gag law and forced a good many members to vote for it who would much rather have voted for some other measure on the same subject. In fact we believe that although there were only 12 votes against it in the House it was the sense of a majority that it contained objectionable features not few or small. It is strongly intimated that the Executive will decline to sign it, and Fenton's bill introduced and passed in the House yesterday morning to amend the act of 1870 to aid the construction of the locks is believed to be a sort of a dodge to let the Governor down easy and to pave the way for the House to get out of the constitutional dilemma in which the supporters of the bill are placed. Those voting for the bill, originally, are abundantly able to pass it over the Executive's veto, but the [illegible] of H B 1[illegible] will give the members who voted for S B 9 under protest an opportunity to correct any mistake they may conclude has been made. In the discussion arising upon Fenton's bill yesterday, the fact was clearly elicited that the House had lost faith in its position on S B 9, and many members wanted something that would better satisfy their consciences, though the warmest supporters of H B 163 were the opponents of S B 9. Fenton said he had voted for the Senate bill, but as a lawyer he had grave doubts of its constitutionality. Cheeseman, Lawrence and McBride thought the House bill indicated returning reason in the members who had enacted the farce last week, and were glad to see it. Straight stood almost alone in his opposition. He characterized the bill as not worth the paper it was written on, and believed it was done to shield the Governor in an expected veto of S. B. 9. His surmises may have been correct, and his earnestness in im[illegible]ing his ideas on the House created a good deal of amusement in the lobby.

THE COMPULSORY EDUCATION BILL

Came up on Tuesday forenoon in the House on its third reading and final passage, and was made the subject of considerable debate, Ferguson, the "Bourbon" of the House, opposing it with his usual persistency. He was replied to with telling effect by Kirkpatrick, Fenton, Goodsell and others, and the bill received a very handsome majority, about a dozen Democrats and all the Republicans but one supporting it. The bill is a good one, mild in its provisions and will work no hardship on anybody. It merely provides that children between the ages of 7 and 16 years, living in organized school districts, shall be sent to school one quarter in [illegible] year after the first Monday in April, 1877, or the parents or guardians of each child not so sent shall pay a sum not less than $10, nor more than $25 per annum to the school district. The directors of the district are empowered to procure at the expense of the district such text books as are suitable for those who give notice that they are unable to purchase such books. Those who are exempt from the operation of the act are: 1. Children mentally or physically disabled. 2. Those who reside more than three miles from the place where the school is kept, or whose roads are impracticable. 3. Those who send their children to school elsewhere. 4. Those who have attended school 18 months between the ages mentioned and can read and write. This is about all there is in the bill, and if in their wisdom the Senate should concur with the House and put it into shape of law, it will give Oregon a high standing in educational [illegible], and be the means of preventing many poor children from growing up ignorant of even the rudiments of our language. We would be much pleased to see it tried, at least.

BILLS APPROVED

The House was formally notified yesterday afternoon that His Excellency the Governor had approved and signed the following bills:

H. B 16—An act entitled an act to amend the act incorporating the town of Marshfield in Coos county.

S B 30—Defining and punishing the crimes of kidnapping and child stealing; a very proper piece of legislation hitherto neglected in the State.

S B 50—Amending section 14, title 1, chapter 28, criminal code of 1874, so that it now reads as follows:

That if any person shall sell, give, or cause to be sold or given, any intoxicating liquor to any minor in this State without first obtaining the consent of one of such minor's parents or guardian, in writing, or if any keeper of any saloon, bar room or other vender of spirituous or intoxicating liquors within this State shall harbor, permit or suffer any minor to loiter or remain in or about such saloon, bar room, or other place where such spirituous or intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale or to engage in any game of cards, billiards, bagatelle or other game, in such saloon, bar room or place aforesaid, either for amusement or otherwise, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months or by both, at the discretion of the court, and shall also forfeit any license such person may have to sell spirituous or intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one quart or to keep such saloon, bar room or other place for the sale of such liquor. A justice court shall have jurisdiction of the crime herein defined.

S B 58—Repealing the act entitled an act creating the office of State geologist and to fix the salary therefor. This law had become a "dead letter" as the office had not been occupied or the salary drawn since Mr Condon resigned about ten months ago.

S B 76—To provide clerical aid in the office of the Treasurer of State.

H B 2—Providing for the permanent location of the county seat of Josephine county, and H. B 69, legalizing the action of justices of the peace in Monmouth precinct, Polk county.

Thus it will be seen that so far no bills of importance originating in the lower house have yet become laws.

THE GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL

Is at length before the House, having been submitted by Mr Ferguson, chairman of the ways and means committee, on Tuesday. The bill, as presented, appropriates the following sums for the several objects named for two years, beginning Sept. 11, 1876:

For salary of executive officers	$15 000 00
For salary of justices of the Supreme Court, district attorneys and Supreme Court Clerk	86 600 00

For deficiency in excess of past appropriation for mute school	253 00
Fund deficiency—salary of clerk of pilot commissioners for two years	1 200 00

For salary of prison inspector and expenses	600 00
For keeping insane patients at the asylum	120 000 00
For salary of visiting physician	1 000 00
For deficiencies in excess of past appropriation for convict [illegible]	1 027 [illegible]

For like purposes as school lands	2 000 00
For like purposes as [illegible] lands	5 000 00
For volumes six and five of Supreme Court report out of the general fund	8 000 00

THE STATE TAX

The amount of the above appropriations $372 169 91. The tax bill adopted in committee of the whole house last night provides among other things for levying a tax of four mills on the dollar to pay the current expenses of the State government. Should this bill become a law the amount raised by the provision cited, estimating the taxable property in the State in round numbers at forty millions, would be $160,000 per annum, or $320 000 for the two years. So it requires no great amount of calculation to ascertain that the tax proposed will not raise the [illegible] appropriated by about $50,000, and that this deficiency at least will be found to exist two years from now if present arrangements are carried out. The legislature of 1874 levied a total tax for State purposes of $237,821 19, or between $40 000 and $50,000 less than the legislature of "retrenchment and reform" proposes to levy. The people will [illegible] if they will study all the proceedings of this legislature with care, that the "retrenchment [illegible] reform" must not be carried out at the expense of [illegible] Democratic [illegible] friends of the proposed State financial [illegible] argue that the tax will be no [illegible] heretofore. oc17d3t HENRY HEWETT & CO.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 19, 1876.

COME TO THE SCRATCH!

In the Standard of yesterday appeared three editorial paragraphs which deserve special attention. The first is as follows:

> School teaching seems to have been the stumbling block of more than one prominent Radical in Oregon. And they all appear to have a hankering to go to Washington, either in the capacity of Senator or Congressman.

The reference to the well known career of Senator "Mitchell" and the connection in which it is placed with the present political contest renders apparent the purpose of charging upon the Republican candidate for Congress offenses similar to those of which he was guilty. But the next paragraph is broader still:

> It seems from what we can learn, the Radicals of Oregon are rather unfortunate in their selection of candidates. As a general thing they have been school teachers, and their "youthful indiscretions" are a subject of common report.

Then follows this:

> Wonder if the Radical candidate for Congress ever taught school at or near Healdsburg.

The obvious purpose of all this is, to make by innuendo a charge which the Standard lacks the courage to make directly. It is a scurvy business the Democratic organ is engaged in. If "the Radical candidate for Congress" has been guilty of any conduct which is proper matter for criticism, the decent and manly thing for the Standard to do is to make a specific and direct statement of it, and take the responsibility, instead of assailing him with cowardly insinuations.

Mr. Williams authorizes us to say that the insinuation implied in the Standard's paragraphs, is absolutely and unqualifiedly false. It is false in general and false in every possible particular, without so [illegible] the shadow of truth for its foundation. Furthermore, Mr. Williams never taught school a day in his life at or near Healdsburg.

Now, if the editor of the Standard has any appreciation of the first principles of honorable journalism, he will either come forward with the direct charge and the proof, or make a complete retraction of the infamous charge he makes by innuendo. Mr. Williams asks no forbearance or "suspension of judgment," pleads no statute of limitations, but challenges the Standard to a full disclosure and to the proof. "Put up or shut up," Mr. Standard. No favors are asked.

THE WAR IN EASTERN EUROPE—WHAT NATIONS WILL "TAKE A HAND?"

Events connected with the Turko-European question tend rather to postpone than to hasten adjustment. The [illegible] of Russia promises nothing favorable to peace. Professing to desire a [illegible] such as will prevent war, the [illegible] to object to every [illegible] of the other mediating powers [illegible] to their aid, and his subjects continue without restraint, to flock to the [illegible] of the revolted provinces. In [illegible] the strength of the rebellion is no[illegible] Servia and Montenegro; it is [illegible] The opinion prevails in diplomatic circles, according to the statements of correspondents of the London press, that [illegible] war is inevitable, and the only [illegible] appears to be whether the conflict will open at once, or be delayed till [illegible] is past. Some intelligent [illegible] of English sympathies, go so far [illegible] the course of Russia as [illegible] hostile to any programme for a [illegible] of the difficulties, that it may [illegible] be considered as practically a [illegible] of war against Turkey. Perhaps this opinion is somewhat influenced by English hostility to the Eastern policy of the Czar; but after all allowances that can be asked on that score, it is apparent that Russia desires no settlement that will not further her schemes of empire. The [illegible] on which the Czar has ex[illegible] his willingness to co-operate with the other powers to bring about a reconciliation between the Porte and the insurrectionary provinces plainly indicate this.

An American fails to see anything in the revolt of the Catholic subjects of a Mohammedan empire to involve all [illegible] Europe in a war. It looks from [illegible] side of the Atlantic like a matter in which there is no occasion for the interference of the western nations. Nor does it appear very clearly why the interposition of any one of those nations, on the one side or the other, should make it any [illegible] for all the rest to rush in. The [illegible] has never been, that we are aware of, any [illegible] among the nations of Europe that the famous "Monroe Doctrine" should be observed in their dealings among themselves or with the outside barbarians to the east of them. France and Prussia lately had a war which resulted in Prussia's carving off a large and very rich slice of French territory and annexing it to her own. Immediately afterwards the Emperor of Prussia, taking advantage of the enthusiasm which his success in the French war had inspired in the German mind, to accomplish a long cherished object, recast the entire map of German Europe, and realized the ideal of his illustrious house, in the absorption of the North German States. The Germans call it the unification of Germany, but it is simply the extinction of the lesser States. All this took place without any protest from the [illegible] of those nations who now style themselves "The Powers" and insist on being recognized as the legitimate arbiters of the destiny of the East. If such an immense extension of the dominions of one of the first imperial powers could be permitted, why should all Europe be thrown into such a ferment and agitation by the possibility that another leading imperial power may get a slice of Ottoman territory?

That is the way plain people with American ideas of statecraft naturally reason. But American ideas of statecraft do not embrace all the factors of the problem. England, with her base of operations in Southern Asia, has for years pursued a policy of extension to the Northwest. Russia reaches out from farther northwest to seize territory England covets. But Russia's plans contemplate also the possession of the western shore of the Black Sea and the adjacent country, the seat of the present insurrection. The acquisition of this territory would open to her an outlet to the South and give her the whole of Northern and Eastern Europe from the Arctic ocean to the Mediterranean. Such a vast augmentation of her dominions would, it is assumed, greatly facilitate her march toward England's Indian border, thus frustrating the designs of the latter in that quarter. So English statesmen have, or think they have, not only the commercial and financial interests of their people with Turkey, but also their Asiatic possessions, present and prospective, to protect by securing a settlement of the differences between Turkey and her provinces on the basis of the statu quo.

The position of Austria is easily understood. The possession by Russia of the mouth of the Danube for some hundreds of miles, with all the rich grain region round about, is not a pleasant subject for Austrian statesmanship to contemplate.

The other Christian nations are not so directly interested, but their relations to those that are, render it impossible for them to abstain, at least in the diplomatic stage of the contest, from taking part in the plotting and counterplotting. If the conflict should change from one of wits to one of arms, the probabilities are they will drop out and leave the rough work to those immediately interested.

The Standard raises the cry of bayonet rule, because the President, in response to official representations by the governor of South Carolina, lets the Ku Klux of that State know that they must cease murdering Republicans and allow the election to proceed fairly. In acting upon official representations of Governor Chamberlain the President only does what the constitution and laws require of him, and what he could not refuse to do except in total disregard of his duty. If the Confederate Democracy of South Carolina wish to avoid the employment of force in the South, the way to do it is plain. They have only to abstain from violence and let the people, black as well as white, vote according to their preferences without the fear of molestation. By doing this, they can free themselves from the presence of these hated soldiers of the Union. There is little danger of the Federal government interfering unnecessarily, when the forcible breaking up of Republican meetings and the suppression of free discussion of public matters does not provoke it. The government which has allowed these things to go on can hardly be accused of indecent or improper haste to give its aid to the outraged people. The fact of this long forbearance is evidence that there is necessity for interference before the interference takes place

> Since Mr. Williams refused to accept the nomination for Congress on the Radical ticket which endorsed Mr. Mitchell, we are somewhat astonished that, in the language of a Radical, "the ablest and best of Oregon's Senators", can now support him for Congress. It seems to us that a repudiation of the candidate now before the people on the Radical ticket is the only show our junior Senator has for an endorsement.—Standard.

Unfortunately for the plans of the Standard and its party, the people are not troubling themselves about the "show our junior Senator has for an endorsement," and therefore they do not feel called upon to accept the advise of the Bourbon organ and repudiate Mr. Williams.

The session of the legislature is about coming to an end, and nothing is done for railway connections. The people, however, have the consolation of knowing that a measure is being pressed forward for the creation of the office of attorney general with a nice salary.

By the card of Mr. Ambrose Patton, which appears this morning, it will be seen that he declines the honor of a position on the Democratic ticket for Cowlitz county, W. T.

The price of gold has advanced again. The gold gamblers are evidently taking advantage of the fears entertained by some that Tilden may be elected President.

PRESENTATION TO PRESIDENT WATSON

PORTLAND Oc 18 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

It was my good fortune to be present at a meeting of agricultural gentlemen of Oregon when a beautiful gold watch was presented to W P Watson president of the State Agricultural Society He was taken completely by surprise Col Thorp in his usual pleasant style addressed the president in behalf of the donors and made the presentation at their request and read the following inscription Presented to W P Watson President of the Oregon State Agricultural Society by esteemed friends—L L Leathers J H Thorp and L P W Quimby whereupon the president briefly responded as follows

Gentlemen Not making any pretensions to oratory and being so completely overpowered by such an unlooked for token of your esteem and kind regard it might perhaps be better for me to say simply I thank you from the bottom of my heart but duty compels me to add a few words to the simple expression of thanks Aside from the intrinsic value of this beautiful present I greatly esteem it as a token to me as simply trying to do my duty in connection with all the great interests of the Oregon State Agricultural Society and as such token believe me friends while life shall last I shall cherish the most grateful memory towards the donors And allow me here to state that one of the proudest acts of my life is in using my influence humble though it be in urging the Society to assume the remaining indebtedness on the Centennial fruit bill and placing the same on our records without a dissenting voice while under the shadow of our State capitol the t refused (to shame be it said) the necessary aid for the same wise purpose But just here allow me to state that I attribute to the presence and influence of the ladies a large share of praise for our success as a Fair, for they came to the front and by word and action said it must succeed And Mr Speaker when did the American ladies undertake to do anything that they failed to accomplish?

To you Mr Leathers though a comparative stranger to Oregon interests with my acquaintance and business transactions with you, I can say—an honest man, the noblest work of God ! If not now in the near by future, you sir will be looked upon and esteemed as one of the world's public benefactors for your valuable discovery in the artificial stone which has placed the world centuries ahead in architecture and building

To you Colonel Thorp, wear the title you have so bravely won In our nation's darkest hour during the late rebellion when she called for her sons of freedom to rally round our glorious old flag, you freely placed your life upon your country's altar as a sacrifice and were among the foremost to the front, and daringly drew the steel of your country and I am proud to say when once drawn that steel was never sheathed ingloriously or in dishonor

To you friend Quimby as a thoroughbred Oregonian although professionally a hotel man, your liberal views have favored all our material interests and by your indomitable zeal proverbial kindness and attention to friends and guests have risen from obscurity to the first rank among your craft and wherever I go throughout this coast the name of L P W Quimby and the American Exchange is to say the least at par

In conclusion allow me to state one of the most remarkable coincidents in my life I have just received a letter from my little sick boy at home, which says Dear Papa I had a dream last night and I dreamed you come home and brought me a beautiful gold watch, and when I awoke I said to my brother 'Hand me the watch' And imagine my disappointment when I found it was all a dream ' I now promise you kind friends that when I go to my home beyond the mountains I will make an informal presentation of this precious gift to that son and if in the course of human events the son survives the father and when I am called with the fathers to the spirit land by Him who doeth all things well ere my departure I hope to call that son to me and be able to say, 'My son take this precious treasure, wear it, keep it and ever cherish in grateful memory in connection with your loving father, the names inscribed within the lids of this precious gift "

Friends, from my heart of hearts again I thank you

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 19, 1876.

PARING APPLES.

Out underneath the apple tree
A bonny maiden sat,
And by her side in drowsy state,
Reposed the old gray cat.
The sky above, the fields below,
The little maiden sitting there,
The golden curls and soft blue eyes,
All formed a picture sweet and fair.

And in her lap a dish she held
Of fruit—a tempting sight,
And in a cheery voice she sang,
"These must be pared ere night:"
But mother's gone and I'm alone,
And now I'll try my luck and see
If brown eyed Robin—whom I love—
Has really given his heart to me.

"For I've often heard if I should pare
An apple whole and sound,
Without a break in one long strip,
And cast it on the ground,
That, falling, it would twine and take
The first initial of his name
Who, some fine day—if it is true—
Will surely come my hand to claim."

Then quick as thought, the deed was done,
And, lying at her feet,
The ruddy skin, with joy she saw,
Had formed an R complete.
She clapped her hands in child-like glee,
And, ringing o'er the distant green,
A happy song broke from her heart,
"Now, Robin is my own, I ween."

But why do sudden blushes rise,
[illegible] cheek and brow?
[illegible] the snowy, dimpled hand,
[illegible] does it tremble so?
[illegible] a manly form
[illegible] behind her chair,
[illegible] up with sky blue eyes,
[illegible] her lover standing there.

[illegible] and taps her cheek:
"[illegible], little lassie mine,
The [illegible] skin has told thee true,
[illegible] heart is thine."
[illegible] in their dish,
[illegible] the apples, red and gold,
While in the summer afternoon
[illegible] tale once more is told.

M. S. GRISWOLD.

Why the Buffum pear is called the Buffum is told by the Newport correspondent of the Boston Transcript. When the famous and [illegible] Malbone mansion was burned down, its owner was presiding at a dinner party. He ordered the servants to remove cloth and [illegible] to the lawn, and there, hostess and [illegible], by the light of the burning house, quietly finished their meal. It is furthermore [illegible] that the firemen, being of the common people, were ordered by the mistress of the hall not to step foot upon her carpets, which were not laid for such clumsy feet as theirs, and therefore no efforts were made to save the [illegible] from the flames. The place passed into the hands of a Quaker named Buffum. From the ashes of this fire, and the earth thrown out in making a new cellar, sprang a pear tree, which was let grow, and it bore fruit of a variety hitherto unknown, and which then took the name of Buffum. The old mansion has been replaced by one somewhat similar, though not so large, and it is now the residence of Mayor Bedlow, who gave Dom Pedro a [illegible] as costly and as fine as that held on its site the day the old hall burned.

We see that the new Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine is on exhibition on the Fair Grounds. It should commend the attention of visitors the more as its victories for 1876 [illegible] so numerous and complete. Call and see it and fully convince yourself that it did [illegible] the first [illegible] at the Centennial Ex[illegible] at American In[illegible] York, gold [illegible] at the California [illegible] at the [illegible] at the [illegible] Fair.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

3,100 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.
